Judges Comments:

Overall a somewhat disappointing class with a prevalence of commercial styles and the need to carefully manage residual sugar levels.

Judges Comments:

A remarkable class to judge, and very tough to select the final top wines. Paying attention to exposure and fermentation paid off in the best wines

Class 3 2015 Dry White Chardonnay

3 . 10	DEVIL	Devil's Lair Winery	Devil's Lair The Hidden Cave Chardonnay 2015	Chardonnay	Bronze	85

Judges Comments:

Chardonnays appear to be rushed or commercially intended to get into bottle early, without trying to make the very best wine from good fruit.

4 . 14	FHV	Forest Hill Vineyard	Forest Hill Vineyard Estate Gewurztraminer 2015	Gewurztraminer	Bronze	89

Judges Comments:

Crisp, crunchy silver wines were re-visited but not enough support for gold. Some wines were faulty and lacked freshness.

Judges Comments:

Styles split the judges and created lots of great discussion. Clearly a lot of thought put into the winemaking beyond just fruit, which is great to see. Appears to be a tough vintage to get riper depth and passionfruit. Best wines were beautifully balanced and restrained without overt green thistle/pea characters.

Judges Comments:

Fun to judge and drink. We were looking for the perfect combination of savoury, crisp crunchy texture and gorgeousness. The best Rose could easily be drunk by an infinity pool in St Tropez, overlooking the ocean.

Judges Comments:

Top wines are as good as Australian Chardonnay gets - complex, textural and long. Wines that missed medals were advanced or sweet, tinned fruit and too simple.

Judges Comments:

Range of styles exhibited in top wines. Many wines suffered from very heavy handed oak.

Judges Comments:

Wines with great complexity and intense structure with fruit weight and judicious oak were amazing. Some overly mature wines for 2013, and excess oak didn't show as well.

Judges Comments:

A lot of very structured wines with good depth, but top wines also have vibrancy, fragrance and freshness. Almost all wines of very good standard so mostly bronze and above quality.

Generally, tannin structure is holding wines back from having an attractive finish, some green and oak dominance holding back from gold.

Judges Comments:

This is a great class. Hard to judge with varying preferences for style, much discussion over levels of oak, alcohol, tannin finesse and depth. Some stunning wines, extremely hard to judge top gold.

Judges Comments:

Strong class, two really good golds. Top gold has incredible length with the other gold having remarkable complexity - both fantastic.

Judges Comments:

Brilliant lack of reductive wines. Variable styles can all be good. Top wine uncanny depth and fruit weight, some elegant fine wine getting up because of balance and core. Old school also showing well.
